Introduction to methods and supportive techniques for refugee inclusion in school communities

Tuesday 18.00 - 21.00

The European Wergeland Centre \(EWC\) and the Schools for All team are honored to invite you to our conference on Monday June 20, and the online training event 21 June.

Since 2019, EWC has worked closely with the Ministry of Education and Religious Affairs on creating inclusive learning environments for schools all over Greece, with a particular emphasis on refugee integration in the project Schools for All. Based on the expertise, experiences and practices from the project, we have developed the handbook Methods and supportive techniques for refugee inclusion in school communities. The publication is a practical guide on how to work with different aspects of a school community.

The Conference 20th of June is addressed to schools, local authorities and community representatives, and others involved in work on inclusion. The programme includes

- The launch of the handbook
- Presentations and good practices from teachers and students
- A discussion on how the project experiences can be of value beyond the Greek borders
- What next? The new phase of the project

The online training 21st of June on refugee inclusion in school communities is for primary and secondary school teachers in Greece, as well as professionals active in the field of refugee education.
